YEHLE CLERKS TALK OF BENEFIT PLANS

PROPRIETOR AND EMPLOYES IN MEET LAST NIGHT.

BANQUET GOOD CROWD

Dr. A. E. Winship of Boston Speaker Clerks Furnish Surprise Entertainment and Play.

Last evening at the store of the Yehle Dry Goods Company occurred what proved to be one of the most successful meetings the Benefit Association of the company has ever had.

Just after closing hours the initiatory services were held and four new members were given the secret work in the mysteries of the order. Immediately following this was a real old-fashioned Thanksgiving feed with all the new-fashioned trimmings which had been arranged by Mr. Yehle as the Yehle Dry Goods Company's part in the evening's program. This of course was enjoyed immensely.

Mr. Yehle went one step farther, however, and arranged for some extra guests to be present and who gave splendid talks along the lines relating to the business world. This was a surprise to members of the association, but a surprise which was enjoyed to the fullest extent. Dr. Winship of Boston, who is a leader in education in this country, and who has a warm spot in his heart for Nodaway County, was the principal speaker. He gave a splendid address which was not only interesting, but was instructive and elevating. Dr. Winship is a man who is broader than most folks who are following some special line of work, and demonstrated last night that he knows some things outside of just schoolroom experiences. It is a real privilege to have Dr. Winship visit the enterprises of old Nodaway County. George A. Pickens, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Prof. Bert Cooper, superintendent of schools, were the other speakers present at this meeting, and both gave very interesting talks in which a store's service and responsibilities were the outstanding points.

Mr. Yehle, however, was not the only one that had something up his sleeve to spring as a surprise. For while he was busy with the arranging for the dinner and speakers for the evening, Mr. Tracy, president of the association, was preparing a program that was also in the nature of a surprise.

The first number on this part of the program was an article on "The Care of Stocks and Departments," by Mrs. Blanche Lawler.

Miss Gertrude Condon than gave an article which she had prepared "Some Essentials in Salesmanship."

This was followed by an article regarding the treatment of customers, prepared and given by Mr. These were all exceedingly interesting and instructive. These talks were followed by a duet which was enjoyed immensely and was rendered by Miss Jennie Evans and Miss Doris Goforth.

Just at this stage of the game a clever three-act play was sprung on the company, "The Superintendent's Secret, or Where the Buck Goes When It Is Passed." The opening of the play was to represent a day just following the meeting of the store staff after deciding to change from a medium class to a medium and better class store. Of course, each one have their own ideas and the various scenes brought out some fine points. The report is to the effect that everyone of the characters are real actors.

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL SERVICES CLOSED WITH LAST NIGHT

Last night was the final meeting for the First Christian church revival and all services will be discontinued at once. The fuel conservation orders allow the meetings to continue the remainder of the week but the pastor, Rev. R. E. Snodgrass and the church officials are making every effort to aid in the fuel conservation plan and have dismissed with last night's service. This meeting was a very informal one. The temperature of the room was very low but the enthusiasm of the ones attending was very high. At the request of the audience, Prof. J. A. Kay, singing evangelist sang a solo "My Mother's Prayer". Then followed a series of prayers for the recovery of Robert, the young son of the postor who is very ill with pneumonia. Mr. Snodgrass was present and made a short talk. The meetings have been attended with splendid success and there have been 68 additions to the church.

A vote of thanks and confidence was extended to Mr. Kay for his part in the service. He leaves today for Bristow, Okla., to assist Rev. J. T. Alsup, formerly pastor of the Christian church at Pickering, who is conducting revival services there.

Guest of Judge Johnson.

Charles S. Huddle of Ainsworth, Neb arrived in Maryville last night for a short visit with his cousin, Judge W. L. Johnson. Mr. Huddle is a former resident of Nodaway county living near here a number of years. He will start for his home tonight.

COAL SURVEY SHOWS ALARMING STATE

IS FAMILIES WITH NO COAL ON HAND TODAY.

DRASTIC RULES OF R. R.

Wabash and Burlington Agents Received Strict Orders from Director Regarding Release of Fuel.

The coal survey made yesterday discloses the fact that there are only 40 families in the city who have sufficient fuel on hand to last through the heavy part of the winter. There are three districts yet to be surveyed. The result of the survey is as follows:

18 families with none on hand.
155 families with sufficient for a week or less.
30 families with sufficient for two or three weeks.
222 families with supply sufficient to last from 2 weeks to Jan. 1.
347 families with sufficient to last for an indefinite time after Jan. 1.
40 families with sufficient for all winter.

No industry in the city has more than a two weeks' supply and many have less than that amount.

These estimates are based on the use of the strictest economy and the weather conditions. Should there be excessively cold weather, these varying household supplies would not last as long as estimated.

E. L. Ferritor, agent of the Wabash, has received drastic orders from the general superintendent in regard to releasing coal and that all railroad agents must obtain the co-operation of the mayor and Chamber of Commerce in the distribution of coal, using the strictest economy and only for essentials.

The orders are as follows:

St. Louis, Dec. 3.

To all Agents:

Consumption of coal available for domestic and industrial use and in certain prospects for further production make it necessary to conserve fuel in every way possible.

Civic committees are functionihg in most of the larger cities with regional coal committees in conservation of coal by restricting use by non-essentials regulating heating and lighting and policy delivery of coal after it leaves the car to see that distribution is made only for actual essential need.

Effective immediately it is desired to extend the plan to all cities and towns in central western region. Please, therefore, call on the mayor, also the chamber of commerce or commercial club where there is such a body of every. icty and town where a civic committee has not yet been organized and request that such a committee be appointed at once to co-operate with the railroad agent and regional coal committee in the conservation and distribution of coal.

Traveling freight agent on each division are being instructed to call on authorities at each town to co-operate and insure immediate development of this plan and keep in current touch with the manner in which it is being handled. At common points with other lines railroad agents and representatives should confer and act jointly in carrying out these instructions,

Yours truly,
J. E. Taussig.

The Elks Memorial service, which was announced to be held next Sunday afternoon, has been indefinitely postponed. This is done on account of the closing orders of the fuel administration.

A divorce suit filed today was that of Leska M. Johnson against J. Ben Johnson. The petition states they were married September 30, 1903 and lived together until December 1, 1918. The grounds for the divorce are given as indignities. Wright & Ford are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

ERECT SOLDIER MONUMENT FOR JEFFERSON TWP. MEN

Jefferson township's soldier monument was erected a few days ago. It stands on St. Columbia's cemetery, Conception. It is dedicated to the seven soldier boys from that township who sacrificed their lives for their country in the great war. The names of the boys are: Private W. J. Flannigan, died in France, June 30, 1918, Private Wr. James Brady, died in France, Sept., 19, 1918; Private Alfred Meyer, died in France, Sept. 26, 1918; Private Julius Strueby, died at Fort Riley, Kan., Oct. 6, 1918; Joseph C. Farnan, died in France, Oct. 7, 1918 Private John J. McGarry, died in France, Oct. 22, 1918; Private Joseph B. Schwebach, died in France, Nov. 5, 1918. Seven boys from one township; the banner township of Nodaway county also in this respect for outside of Jefferson the entire county mourns only another seven of her boys that died in the war, if the writer is informed correctly.

The remains of the boys of Jefferson township, with the exception of those of Private Strueby, are yet bedded in French soil. But the U. S. Government assured their relatives repeatedly that the corpses would be shipped soon as possible. For this reason the monument was erected without any solemnity, because it is planned to dedicate it when the remains arrive. For the present seven mounds each with a red granite marker which gives the name, age and date of death of the boy reminds the passer-by of the supreme sacrifice made by our heroes. The lot on which the mounds are erected and which also shows the grave of Private Strueby, is situated on a prominent part of the cemetery. It is surrounded by a neat stone curbing and the monument stands in the center of the lot.

The height of the monument is 9'4". The first base, which is of rustic red granite is 6 ft wide and 14" high. The second base of hammered red granite 4'6"x10" high, contains the imperishable porcelain portraits of the seven soldiers. These portraits are made on a base of copper coated on both sides with pure white porcelain, burnt in a kiln at a very high temperature, so that neither heat nor cold, nor moisture can affect the pictures. The portraits are oval, about 7 inches high, and show the boys as natural as any photo can do it. Upon the second base rests the 3'6" high die which is of black granite, flanked on each side by a pilaster. On it are, most beautifully carved, two U. S. flags, joined by a wreath. The die bears the inscription "For God and Country" with the letters "R. I. P" which means "Rest in Peace" The whole is over shadowed by a cross of red granite, 4 ft. high and richly ornamented.

The monument was built by the Iowa and Missouri Granite Co., Bedford, Iowa, according to plans submitted to them. The proprietor of the Granite works stated that so far they had fourteen soldier monuments erected, but none as artistic as this one. It is indeed a fine peace of work, entirely different from most other monument which, as a rule, are nothing but a block of granite or marble. The Jefferson township monument expresses the ideal of a monument and shows that those resting underneath place their hope entirely upon the cross,, and that as the cross on their monument towers towards heaven, they expect to obtain the glories of heaven through the cross. Jefferson township has honored her soldier boys in a most worthy manner. ***

The Nodaway county Sunday school association has opened up a headquarters office in the room north of the Maryville Homestead and Loan association over the Yehle dry goods store on West Third street. All work of the association will be done here and the literature and equipment will be distributed from the general office which will be in charge of G. B. Roseberry, president and Miss Eva Davis, secretary.

The W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. A. McCoppin. Following the business session the program of the afternoon was given. Mrs. J. T. Pugh, president of the organization, conducted the devotional exercises and current events were given by Mrs. Fred Robinson. Mrs. I. W. Coler gave a most interesting talk on the topic. "What the Vote Means to Women." The closing number of the program was a vocal solo by Mrs. Fred Robinson. Mrs. E. B. Thompson, wife of Dr. Thompson, the new district superintendent of the First Methodist church was taken in as a new member. One visitor and seven members were in attendance.

CHANGES MADE IN CLOSING ORDERS

SCHOOL TO REMAIN OPEN UNTIL CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

WOOD CHOPPERS WANTED

Urgent Call for Men, Teams, and Trucks. Plenty of Wood If Cut. Only Solution of Situation.

There has been some modifications of the closing orders issued yesterday These orders go into effect at once. The following statement is issued this afternoon:

To the Public:

The fuel committee are confronted with a great many difficult problems which will take more or less time to work out. We expect to handle them as rapidly as possible and ask the people to be as patient as possible and to feel free at all times to give us their suggestions.

We have deemed it necessary to make a few revisions today of our rules as promulgated yesterday as follows:

We have authorized two lodges to go ahead with meetings today for which preparations had been made before the emergency arose, they are however are to complie with the closing order after today.

On account of the emergency na- f the work done by certain lines of business we have made the following slight modifications, as follows:

Tinners, furnace men, and plumbers will be permitted to open their places of business at 7:00 a. m. and close at 5:00 p. m.

Garages will also be permitted to open at 7:00 a. m. and close at 5:00 p. m., for emergency work only and will be allowed to take care of the storage part of their business at other hours, but must do without electric light during those hours.

Filling stations will also be permitted to open at 7:00 a. m. and close at 5:00 p. m.

The question of the schools, both public parochial, and State Teachers college, is the most difficult one confronting us and after a conference with many citizens the parties in control of said schools, we have concluded to permit said schools to continue until Christmas holidays with the understanding that they reduce the consumption of coal to the very lowest limit an dthat if the emergency becomes greater it may be necessary to close them before the holidays.

One of the things that will help us to keep them open till Xmas is the co operation of the people in cutting and hauling wood and unless the people generally come to our assistance and help us get great quantities of wood in town within the next few days we may have to close the schools.

As to churches we have concluded that if the Protestant churches desire to hold one union service each Sunday at the Christian church building they may do so, and that the Catholic churches may also hold one service on Sunday but we earnestly request that they arrange to use as little fuel as possible on this occasion.

F. P. Robinson
W. O. Garrett
G. A. Pickens.
Maryville Fuel Committee

Only a small army of wood choppers and plenty of teams and trucks to haul the wood to the city will save the fuel situation in Maryville from becoming alarming.

The coal survey, carefully taken and every bit of coal in the city estimated, shows a total of less than 600 tons on hand now including all in the business and residence section.

A committee of business men have been out in the country districts today engaging wood and there will be quite a bit brought into Maryville tonight. There is plenty of wood to supply the town if it can be cut and made ready. The great need is for workmen and teams. Any one ready to work or to give teams and trucks is asked to report to the fuel committee at the Chamber of Commerce at once.

CAN NODAWAY COAL MINES BE WORKED

PROPOSITION CONSIDERED BY MANY TO BE FEASIBLE ONE

MAY SUBSCRIBE FUNDS

Business Men Express Themselves Ready to Raise Funds for Work if Supply will Warrant.

Why don't the fuel committee of Maryville or a committe selected by them make an investigation of the coal mines in and around Quitman and also of the mine near Morgan school house in Hughes township.

This question is being asked today by many people.

Here is what Joe Carden of near Quitman who has coal on his farm said today:

"The coal around Quitman is just as good quality as any coal anywhere. There is plenty of it in this community and the veins averaged from 12 to 18 inches. These mines haven't been operated for a few years.

I don't believ it would take any additional machine to operate these mines. There are probably two or three former coal miners in the community who probably could take charge. It would be better of colrce, to have experienced coal miners to work but even volunteer workers would be able to get a good deal of coal out of these places.

"The proposition is a practical and feasible one."

W. B. Gex of Hughes township who was in Maryville today said the mine near the Morgan school house was a good one and had a good quality of coal. This mine wa soperated last year and this coal was used at the Morgan school house. Mr. Gex thought the vein there was from fourteen inches to two feet. He thought that a good deal of coal could be secured from this mine.

Several men expressed themselves as willing today to subscribe to a fund for the purpose of operating these mines which are located close to Maryville. They were of the opinion enough coal could be secured from these places for Nodaway county.

Let's get busy and investigate the proposition.

MINERS RESUME WORK IN EASTERN FIELDS

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 4.—Thirty seven union mines in Fairmont, West Virginia field ,resumed operation this morning according to an announcement of the local coal distributing committee of the United States Railroad Commission here today.

Pittsburg, Kan., Dec. 4.—Thin sheeting of ice covering the ground, dampen the ardor of the Kansas volunteer miners and familiar cry "Let's go" was heard in eleven mines mannned today. It is believed the production schedule day will be carried through.

In a practice basket ball game last night between the Richards and Adams squad at the State Teachers college, the Adams squad won by a score to 9 to 6.

The line up was Richards, f. Nelson f. Elmore c, Wells g, Carter —Adams, g. Sawyers g, Thompson, f. Egley, f. Yehle c. The game was a close fought contest. The score at the end of the first half was 5 to 0 for Richards squad. Glenn was referee and Coach Rice umpire. There are a number of new players coming into the college for the winter term which is strengthening the squads.

MISSOURI LEADS DIVISION IN R. C.

HAS LARGEST PERCENTAGE OF MEMBERS IN FIVE STATES

THIRD LARGEST CANTEEN

Collected Largest Per Capita War Fund of any State in the Southwest Division.

The state of Missouri, with a larger percentage of Red Cross members than any other state in the southwestern division of the Red Cross—the states of Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas—collected a larger per capita war fund than any other state in the division, it was revealed recently by statistics compiled by Red Cross officials.

Approximately 27 per cent of Missouri's population—924,444 members of a population of 3,448,498—enrolled in 123 Red Cross chapters in 114 counties. In addition there were 510,836 Junior Red Cross children in the schools. These members were among the contributors to the first and second war funds collected by the organization during hostilities. Both funds in Missouri totaled $9,123,044.48 or exactly $2.646 for each man, woman and child in the state. Women workers made with their own hands 9,921,622 articles for wear for use in hospitals, camps and refugee colonies.

"Missouri," said Alfred Fairbank, division manager, "may well be proud of her contributions toward the winning of the war. She gave not only of the military genius of General Pershing but of the strength of her young manhood and she contributed as well the devotion and untiring labor of her women.

"The state boasted the third largest canteen in the country—that of St. Louis. Only New York and Boston, ports of embarkation, exceeded this canteen in the number of men served. Turning just as valiantly to support of the Red Cross peace program, 53 chapters have given the women of their community an opportunity to take instruction in Red Cross nursing courses. One Missouri count yenrolled 300 women in this work in the month of August alone.

"Another Misosuri chapter is acting as a co-ordinating and co-operating agency to aid in the work of other welfare organizations in that community. Throughout the state similar activity is evident. Missouri, we hope, is going to be more than ready to give its support to the Third Red Cross Roll Call and will carry its splendid war record into times of peace."

A SAFE TEST.

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Maryville people.

Miss Harriet McClurg, 409 E Thompson St., Maryville, says: "For a weak and lame back ,together with irregular action of the kidneys, Doan's Kidney Pills proved to be just the thing in my case. I was troubled so from pain and weakness in my back hips and loins that I could hardly get about. My kidneys also acted too often, especially at night. Doan's Kidney Pills cured the trouble, and my health is now unusually good."

OVER SEVEN YEARS LATER Miss McClurg said: "It certainly is a pleasure to confirm my former recommendation for Doan's Kidney Pills. It has been a long time since I have had to use them, so I consider the benefit permanent."

Make Arrangements for Extensive Bridge Work and Repair over County in Coming Year.

The county court at their meeting yesterday ordered five car loads of bridge lumber from the Standard Bridge Co., of Omaha with the understanding that the lumber will be handled by the lumber dealers over the county. In addition to this order, the court has two cars on the way. With these seven cars and some bridge lumber held at different places over the county, they figured they have about nine cars to put on bridges next year. During the past year, the court used twelve cars of bridge lumber.

ANALYSIS OF FARM WORK GIVES A BUSINESS BASIS

Farmers have sometimes been unjustly criticized for knowing little about the business side of their work. The fact is that they usually have the details sufficiently in mind, but they are not always ready to summarize and bring them together into a concrete statement. With knowledge of what his costs and previous income have been the farmer is better equipped to market his produce profitably and to determine what future expenditures are advisable.

In the work of the Office of Farm Management of the United States Department of Agriculture several thousand farms have been studied to analyze their operations from a business standpoint and learn some of the most important reasons for their success or failure. Experience shows that it is not possible to distinguish profitable farms by casual observation. Where a farmer is operating a large business, even a low rate of interest without any wages for himself would bring in sufficient funds to give a prosperous appearance to the farm. But a farm can not properly be called successful unless it pays a fair rate of interest on the investment, returns fair wages for the farmer's labor, and maintains at the same time the fertility of the soil. A better realization of the fact that the farm is a complex business, subject to certain economic laws, is one of the benefits to be derived from a systematic study of production, marketing, and so on, as it should be carried on by the up-to-date farmer.

Farmers know that the gain from a big business should be more than from a small one, that good cows are more profitable than poor ones, and that good crops are more desirable than those which do not pay for harvesting. The real difficulty is that the farmer has had no convenient way of measuring just how good or how poor his business really was or is; that is, he has had no way to measuring its efficiency.

One of the first essentials is a proper analysis of farm activities, such as is recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture. With the facts that are made available by such an analysis, the farmer can more readily find the strong and the weak points in his system of management and thus make improvements with some confidence in the results. A farmer may not know off-hand what this total farm income is, but he does know with considerable accuracy the facts necessary to determine this income. The final results of the analysis of a farm business is determined mainly by a few large items which the farmer does know quite accurately. The first requisite, therefore, is to assemble and classify properly the items, large and small, that go to make up the yearly totals.

SAND AND GRAVEL OUTPUT OF STATE

1919 RED BOOK GIVES TOTAL AS 1,765,616 TONS

WAR DECREASED PRODUCT

Made Lighter Demand for all Varieties Except Molding and Railroad Sands.

Jefferson City, Mo., Dec 1—The sand and gravel output of Missouri the year 1918, totaled 1,745,616 tons, and had a first wholesale worth of $772,753, announces advanced information from the 1919 Red Bood of the Missouri bureau of Labor Statistics, given publicity today by Commissioner William H. Lewis.

A lighter demand for all varieties of sands, with the exception of molding and railroad sands, 1918 over 1917, due to war conditions, made the industry of less importance for Missouri and all other sand and gravel producing states. The 1917 production of sand and gravel of Missouri totaled 2,274,072 tons, and the same had a worth of $1,101,745.

The following compilation covering the sand gravel output Missouri, 1917, is of value for comparative purposes to show where the decreases occurred and what they amunoted to. The production of glass sand that year totaled 153,970 tons, the same having a total worth of $162,838; of molding sand, 90,811 tons, worth $58,608; building sand, 1,018,719 tons aggregate value $449,546; engine sand, 21,170 tons, value $28,095; and miscellaneous sand 329,267 tons, aggregate value $209,459. The output of Misosuri, gravel, 1917, totaled 565,039 tons, the same having an aggregate worth of $183,860.

What's Bone Dry —What's Not?

Not every storage battery that is called "bone dry" is really shipped and stored in bone-dry condition.

Some have solution put in at the factory, and poured out again before shipment.

Some are shipped with plates dry, and insulation wet.

These batteries are not bone dry.

Come in and get straight from us the story of Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation, the only form of insulation that permits of bone-dry shipment and storage of automobile starting, lighting and ignition batteries.

ENSIGN JOHN K. ROSS NOW STATIONED AT HONDURAS, L. I.

Writes to Home Friends and Tells Some of the Benefits of Life in the U. S. Navy.

The following letter from Ensign John K. Ross of this city, now with the naval service aboard the U. S. S. Dolphin at Puerto Cortz, Honduras, give much information regarding naval enlistment and duties which friends of young Ross will appreciate:

I am taking the pleasure to quote the following for information of any that might be interested in the possibilities of reenlisting in the American Navy, but who have not at this time saw fit to do so, because they did not know all of the opportunities that were made possible by Congress and the Departments.

If there is any desire on the part of any one to enlist or reenlist in the Navy, now is the time to do so. For never in the history of the American Navy has there been a time when the service had so much to offer to the young men of the nation.

I believe that every young man should have some kind of military training, for there is nothing that will better fit a man for a life work, then to be for a time under discipline, where he will learn to master himself as well as others. This fact has been so fully set forth that there is no need for comment on my part.

Men who have enrolled in the fleet naval reserve within four months of the date of their discharge from the Regular Naval service within four months from the date of discharge from the fleet naval reserve be entitled to the same gratuity and additional pay as if they had reenlisted in the regular naval service within four months of discharge therefrom."

It is believed that many men who have not enrolled in the fleet naval reserve would enroll provided that they were informed of the provisions quoted. A great benefit to enlisted men is that they may enroll in the fleet reserve at any time within four month of their discharge from the naval service, and while so serving draw retainer pay of two months base pay each year, and in addition should they at any time during their enrollment decide that they wish to return to the regular naval service they could obtain their discharge from the reserve force and enlist in the regular naval service. The service in the reserve force would serve to bridge the interval while not in the regular naval service and maintain all their regular navy service as continuous.

The bureau has received many requests from previous service men who signify their desire to reenlist provided they can get credit for their previous service. To give them such credit has been impossible due to the fact that they have had broken service.

The bureau desires that each man discharged from the regular naval service be informed of the contents of the act of August 29, 1916, and also of Bureau of Navigation Circular letter 136-19 giving qualifications for enrollment in the fleet naval reserve force. (This is Aug. 29th letter just quoted.)

The bureau will now consider requests for discharge of men who enlisted for the first time between August 29, 1916 and Feb. 4, 1917. Reference (a) art 3603 navy regulations of 1913, permits honorable discharge of such men during the months of June and December in time of peace. Due to the existing national emergency the bureau cannot at this time grant honorable discharges under provisions of reference (a), but will consider the requests of men for discharge by special order of the secretary of the navy.

Members of the hospital corps who enlisted under provisions of reference (a) will not be discharged until such time as hospital coreman who enlisted for the period of emergency have been released.

Symbols of Service

FROM your seat in the train as you journey through the Middle West, you see at almost every station you pass the great, white storage tanks of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). These bulk stations are maintained to insure prompt delivery of petroleum products to the people in that community. To them these tanks are Symbols of Service.

As you motor over the highways and byways of the countryside, you pass the dark green tank wagons of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) busy delivering petroleum products from the bulk stations to the farmer's tank. To the farmer these are Symbols of Service.

At convenient points in city, town and hamlet you find attractive service stations, beautifying ugly corners. These are maintained for your convenience and to you they are Symbols of Service.

You stop at a railroad crossing to let a train pass. In it are a number of tank cars, hurrying forth from the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) refineries to replenish the stocks at bulk stations. Aside from their usefulness as carriers, these also are Symbols of Service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a service organization, and wherever you may see its name or a piece of its equipment, you see a Symbol of the Service it is striving to give in maintaining its position as a public servant doing its full duty.

I'll save you all your shopping worries and cut your Christmas bills in half by sending your friends for a whole year a welcome weekly reminder of your thoughtfulness. What is this ideal gift?

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

Farmers value it as the greatest single help in their business. For East, West, North and South alike it contains the best, the most, the latest information on progressive farming. Women like its articles on poultry, on homekeeping, and its fiction.

There is a bully short story in each issue, and in the course of the year there are five book-length novels by such favorite authors as Zane Grey, Albert Payson Terhune and Henry Oyen. No other gift that you can buy for a dollar will give one-quarter its value; no other present, whatever the cost, will give greater pleasure. Send me the list of your country friends, with their names and addresses and one dollar for each. At Christmas time each of these friends will receive, by mail, together with the first copy of his subscription, a 6¼ x 9⅝ reproduction in full color of a Maxfield Parrish masterpiece, announcing in your name the gift of the most helpful of all publications for the farmer and his family.
